

Sometimes We All Need Help Finding Our Way...

Even in the best of times life can be challenging and may require you to seek the services of a professional counselor.

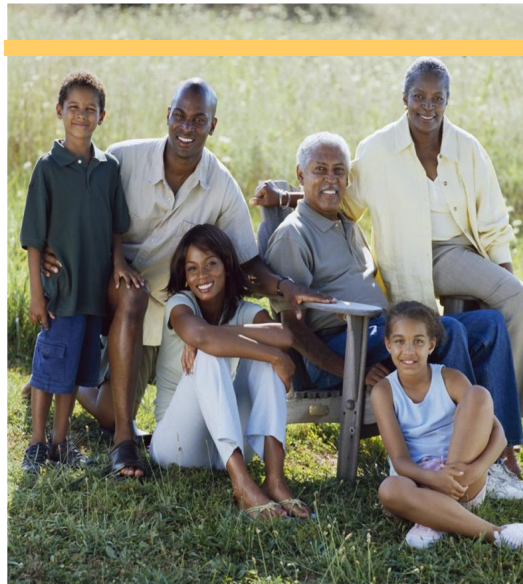

Our licensed clinicians, pastoral counselors, and interns provide the highest quality care. They use therapeutic interventions aimed at helping you achieve emotional and mental health wellness. You may need a compassionate listener for a little advice. On other occasions, because of deeper issues you may need to speak with one of our skilled clinicians for more in-depth counseling. Either way we are here for you.

With a professional and volunteer staff of counselors and highly competent referral partners, we can help you with:

- Marital and family issues
- Parenting concerns
- Individual challenges
- Grief and Bereavement
- Life Transition difficulties
- Caregiver self-care

We Believe.....

- Each person is a valued member of the community and worthy of compassionate care.
- Counseling should be provided in a way that respects each person's human dignity.
- Good emotional and mental health is essential to making positive lifestyle choices.
- Overall wellness is best achieved with a focus on mind, body, spirit, and awareness of the importance of faith.

When Visiting Us.....

- You'll know your confidentiality and privacy concerns are protected.
- You won't be turned away because of financial challenges.
- You'll be treated with dignity and respect.
- You'll receive high quality compassionate care.
